Abstract:

The Scale-up Accelerator Network (SAN) provides a unique network of experts who are open to sharing their “scars and bruises” and save significant time, effort and overall frustration in the bumpy ride to overcome the "valley-of-death".

This mentoring track at an optimised cost is focused on your technology and your technical question; the output is built in collaboration with the expert and aligned to your need to drive and de-risk your scale-up journey.

Several examples will be shared to explore the large panel of questions start-up are confronted with and where the program helped out.
The next applicant for the mentoring can be you, let's see how having "the End in mind" influence your scale-up journey!
