Short Abstract:
For more than a decade, Sofinnova Partners has been investing in companies that apply biotechnology to develop sustainable solutions in agriculture, food, chemicals and materials. Sofinnova Industrial Biotech II fund is a €175m environmental impact fund, with a focus on early-stage investments, helping entrepreneurs build teams and knowledge networks. We find the right financial and industrial partners so that companies we invest in have multiple options. As pioneers in this space, we have accumulated a unique perspective in scaling biotech startups manufacturing industrial goods. Since our inception, we have tried to improve the world through innovative, impact-focused start-ups. We lead investments in early-stage rounds (Seed, Series A and B), providing visionary entrepreneurs with the capital to drive real change towards a new sustainable approach to producing and consuming goods globally. However, our commitment goes far beyond just money. As advisors, ecosystem connectors, committed board members, and partners, we provide the expertise and experience needed to scale innovative solutions and build the future.
