Abstract:
RENATURE's mission is to renature the flexible materials industry (leather, imitation leather, and rubber). Thanks to its patented technology for bio-circular, plastic-free, and ultra-modular soft materials, RENATURE has become the innovation partner of premium and luxury brands who want to enter the No-Plastic No-Oil area. We co-develop unique, tailor-made materials with them, serving their brands while addressing their future CSR challenges. A perfect alliance for combining desirability and sustainability. We've launched our first commercialization in the luxury packaging industry and are dealing with high brands and luxury groups for various ambitious applications. After 7 years and half of R&D, we're looking for high-engaged partners to help us in this first commercial phase; in order to become the european reference in flexible, sustainable, and attractive materials.
